Dear Friends,

As I continue to watch the television reporting about Hurricane Florence and I try to wrap my mind around the aftermath of the destruction she has left in her path, I am reminded that very few things in life are permanent. Our homes, cars, clothing, electronics, personal property, "play things", food and money are not something that are everlasting. They could be taken away in a heartbeat by a hurricane, a tornado, a market crash, a job loss, a divorce, a fire, a flood, a ????.

What does it feel like to lose those things you have worked for so hard? What does it feel like to have everything you have worked for wiped out? It has to feel horrible. Most of the people affected by the hurricane say over and over again that they are just so thankful they are alive. They are so grateful that their family is safe. Looming in the future is the cleanup, the rebuilding, the waiting, the struggle to get insurance payments and available contractors. Do they still get paid by their employers? How do they do it?

My first thought is that they can't do it alone. They need help. They need us to reach out in the best way possible and help. Having been on a couple of Presbytery rebuilding mission trips, I have learned that it takes a long time to get your life back in order after a destructive storm. It takes not months but years!!! If you are interested in financially supporting the relief efforts I would recommend going through the Presbyterian Disaster Assistance program. The website is: https://pda.pcusa.org/page/give/. I trust how they handle your financial gifts.

This event has lead me to think about what is most important to me? What would I run out of the house with in a fire? Of course, Brian, our children and grandchildren are at the top of that list. Our dog Josie is such an important part of our family, I wouldn't leave without her. If I had time I'd grab my passport, birth certificate and purse. I might grab one of the computers or an ipad (notice we have multiples). As I run through our "property" I realize we have multiples of so many things. Why do we have so much? Do we really need all this stuff?

Then I begin to think about what I could do if I had not made some of those purchases. What kind of love could I spread? How many loads of laundry could I have covered through the laundry love ministry? How many backpacks could I have filled for school children who don't have them? How much food could I have given to PIN? What could I have done to help the women at the Unity House get on their feet?

The other day one of the church's neighbors came to the office with his dog. He needed help with rent. After getting to know him and his dog a bit, Wenda wrote him a check out of the pastor's discretionary fund to cover the balance of his rent. If we hadn't been able to help our neighbor, he would have been evicted.

This gentleman was getting ready to have surgery for a hernia. His best friend was a humongous dog who still had a lot of puppy in him. I asked him if he had a dog crate and he said no. That meant that everywhere our neighbor went he had to take his big "Marmaduke type" dog. I thought to myself, how is he going to get through his surgery?

Now this man was so grateful for the rent help, he offered more than once to give me his most valued possession, his dog, because we had been so kind to him. I asked him if he was trying to find a home for him and he said no, but because of our kindness he would give me the dog if I wanted it.

I talked with Brian and asked if he would be ok if we gave the man one of our dog crates. It was the one we were saving to use with our "next dog". He said "of course!" This was a simple act that made a big difference in this man's life. He didn't have much. He had a roof over his head, his dog and a surgery looming in the future. I didn't have that future dog and I'm sure we'll work it out when it happens.

In Mark 10, a rich man comes to Jesus and says, "What must I do to inherit eternal life?" "Follow all the commandments", replies Jesus. "I've done that", said the rich man. Jesus then instructs him "to sell all his possessions and follow him." Ouch! The rich man left grieving.

How much am I willing to sacrifice to follow Jesus? What is really important to me? Do I need all the stuff? How might I use my personal and financial resources for good?

It's stewardship time. A time to reflect on our faith and commitment to God in Christ, this church and its vibrant ministry of love. It's also a good time to do a personal inventory of what's important in our own life. I'm on that journey right now and it's been a humbling experience. I invite you to join me.

Blessings to you all as we continue our Christian journey together.

Blessings,

World Communion Sunday – October 7th

FPC will be collecting donations for our local food pantry on World Communion Sunday. Please bring your donations to church with you and the youth will collect them during worship.

The first Sunday in October is designated as World Communion Sunday, which celebrates our oneness in Christ with all our brothers and sisters around the world. Paul tells us that we are to "discern the body" when we partake of Holy Communion, mindful that we note our relationship to all our brothers and sisters in Christ in the celebration. One is not to go hungry while another is drunk! (I Cor. 11:21).

New FPC Membership Class

Sunday, October 7th
11:30-12:45 pm in the Library

Are you considering making FPC your church home? We would love to have you join our church family! Please come to our next New Members Class and learn more about First Presbyterian Church: our ministries, our mission, and opportunities for growing in your faith journey! Lunch is provided. If you should have any diet restrictions, let us know that as well. RSVP to the church office at 740-363-1205 or by email at delfirstpres@midohio.twcbc.com.

The Mission Committee will give a Moment for the Peace and Global Witness Offering on October 14th.

This PC (USA) offering has been a source of relief and encouragement to those seeking peace around the world. The Offering now has a greater global reach, makes a more significant impact, and empowers participating congregations to use 25% of the money they raise on local and worldwide ministries of their choice. Mid councils retain an additional 25% for ministries of peace and reconciliation. The remaining 50% is used by the Presbyterian Mission Agency to advocate for peace and justice in cultures of violence through collaborative projects of education and Christian witness.

Travelogue to The Holy Land coming in November

If you have ever wanted to visit the Holy Land and retrace the steps of Mary and Joseph leading to the birth of Christ, here is your opportunity. No-not in person, but virtually.

In a 5 session DVD- centered adult study we will travel with Methodist minister Rev. Adam Hamilton to visit Sepphoris, Nazareth, Bethlehem, the Herodium and Ein Karem. As we enter the season of Advent what a tremendous learning adventure this will be, as we read the Biblical account and take an armchair visit to the actual historic sites from the Bible.

"The Journey" classes will be offered on Monday evenings from 7-8 p.m. and Wednesday mornings from 9:30-10:30 a.m. The first sessions will begin on November 5 & 7 in the church library. Materials are free and will be available at class. Please indicate your interest in the class to Peggy Stringham so enough class material will be available.

The Journey: A Season of Reflections by Adam Hamilton may be ordered as a private daily advent devotional.

Contact Peggy Stringham for more information, 740-816-0294.

DEACON HIGHLIGHTS

Kathy Duis opened the first Deacon meeting of the new program year with a devotion: God's Survival Kit. #### THANK YOU

We want to thank the First Presbyterian Church family for all the prayers, support, and love you have given us in the past years. We could not have made it this long without you. Thank you for all the touching cards expressing your love and concern. You have been there when we needed you the most. May blessings be bestowed upon each and every one of you.

The David S. Smith Family

Thank you for the FPC gift of $12,500 payment on your pledge to Turning Point's Campaign for a domestic violence shelter in Delaware. We have reserved naming of the laundry facility for First Presbyterian Church as "Laundry Love".

Paula Roller, Executive Director Turning Point

On behalf of the Presbyterian Association of Musicians I am writing to express our thanks to FPC for its very generous gift. Gifts to the PAM Annual Fund support our ongoing mission and work , enabling conferences and resources that help equip churches and church leaders for worship.

Eric Wall PAM President-Elect

PRESBEES

Come to lunch at noon on Wednesday, October 17th and stay for the program about FPC presented by Steve Shaw. Reservations can be made with George and Margaret Alexander (740-201-5726).

Our church has been housed on the corner of Winter and Washington since 1823. Our current building dates to 1843 making it 175 years of age this year. Come see how the church home we know so well has evolved and grown. It has been well used by FPC and the larger community. See drawings from the 1840's, sanctuary photos from the 1870s, and under construction photos from the 1980's and the 2000's.

FELLOWSHIP

Waffles and Wursts:

In recognition of reformation Sunday, the Fellowship Committee will host a Waffle and Wurst Brunch after the service on Sunday, October 28th. Dr. Rock Jones will speak at the morning service. The brunch is free and will consist of waffles, strawberries, whipped cream, syrup, sausages, and orange juice. Please plan on staying after the service to enjoy this special fellowship time.

Veterans Breakfast:

The Fellowship Committee is planning on having a Veterans Day Breakfast on Sunday November 11th. Since Veterans Day falls on Sunday this year we hope to make this year's breakfast extra special. If you have served in the military at any time, we would like for you to make us aware by contacting either Dick Thayer (228-860-7740 or rethayer46@gmail.com) or Wenda at the office.

The Nature Trip to Inniswoods

On September 9th Nora Hiland as our guide, led a hike on the trails of Inniswoods Metro Park. It was lots of fun! Folks got to see many species of trees and bushes as well as many flower in bloom.

Nora chats with Babs Tull and Paul and Regina Kostyu as they enjoy a quick stop in the shade.

Nora points out another tree of interest to the group.

IN SYMPATHY

Dr. David S. Smith died August 22nd after a battle with cancer. He was an active member of FPC, having served as an Elder, and an active member of Finance, Mission, and Stewardship committees. He was also active in the community serving on many Boards. His passion for life and helping others will be sadly missed. Please keep his wife, Dolores, and their family in your thoughts and prayers.

BAPTISM

Ruby Celeste Stevens was baptized September 2nd. Her parents are Keith and Sarah Stevens. Her sisters, Charlotte and Hazel attended the blessed event. The Deacons hosted a reception following worship.

Pastor Deb carries Ruby, followed by her entourage of children, as she introduces the newest Child of God to the congregation.

"Surely he has borne our griefs ..."

When veteran Joe Serna confessed that he'd been drinking — behavior prohibited in the Veterans Treatment Court program — Judge Lou Olivera sentenced him to one night in jail. That might not seem like much, but while deployed, Serna had been trapped underwater when his truck toppled into a canal. A buddy managed to move him to an air pocket, saving his life, but the buddy and two others died. Years later, even the thought of confinement triggered flashbacks.

As Serna arrived for his jail stay, Olivera, also a vet, saw his anxiety, entered the cell with Serna and spent the night. His kind act nearly brought Serna to tears, but the judge believes any vet would have done the same. "These are our brothers," Olivera says. "We never leave each other behind."

Similarly, Jesus entered our troubled story alongside us, sharing in our suffering, brokenness and even death. As a comrade unlike any other, Jesus calls us his brothers and sisters, refusing to leave us behind with our self-imposed burdens. Above all, Jesus does what only God can: redeems us for the joy of new life.

HYMNS OR PRAISE CHORUS??

On the difference between Praise Choruses and Hymns...

A man accustomed to a mainline church went to a seekers' service one Sunday. He came home and his wife asked him how it was.

"Well," he said, "it was interesting. They did something different. They sang praise choruses instead of hymns."

"Praise choruses?" said his wife. "What are those?"

"Oh, they're okay, I guess. They're sort of like hymns, only different," said the man.

"What's the difference?" asked his wife. He replied, "Well, it's like this. If I were to say to you,

'Martha, the cows are in the com,' that would be a hymn. Suppose, on the other hand, I were to say to you:

'Martha, Martha, Martha, Oh, Martha, MARTHA, MARTHA, the cows, the big cows, the brown cows, the black cows, the white cows, the black and white cows, the COWS, COWS, COWS are in the com.

are in the corn, are in the corn, are in the corn, the CORN, CORN, CORN.'
Then, if I were to repeat the whole thing five or six times, that would be a praise chorus."

As luck would have it, the same Sunday a young woman accustomed to seekers' services attended a mainline service. She came home and her husband asked her how it was.

"Well," she said, "it was interesting. They did something different, however. They sang hymns instead of praise choruses."

"Hymns?" said her husband. "What are those?"

*Oh, they're okay, I guess. They're sort of like regular songs, only different.* said the woman.

"What's the difference?" asked her husband. She replied, "Well, it's like this. If I were to say to you,

'Ernest, the cows are in the corn,' that would be a regular song.

Suppose, on the other hand, I were to say to you:
'Oh Emest, dear Ernest, now hear thou my cry;
Incline thine ear to the words of my mouth.
Turn thou thy whole wondrous ear by and by
To the righteous, inimitable, glorious truth.

For the way of the animals who can explain?
There is in their heads no shadow of sense!
Hearken they not in God's sun or his rain.
Unless from the mild, tempting corn they are fenced.

Yea, those cows in glad bovine, rebellious delight Broke free from their shackles, their warm pens eschewed. Then goaded by minions of darkness and night. They all my mild Chilliwack sweet com have chewed.

So look to that bright shining day by and by, Where all the corruptions of earth are reborn, Where no vicious animal makes my soul cry, And I no longer see those foul cows in the corn.'

Then, if I were to sing only verses one, three and four, and if I were to do a key change on the last verse, that would be a hymn."

Author unknown (perhaps with reason!)

Minister to your ministers

In honor of Clergy Appreciation Month, use these alphabetical reminders of how to treat your pastors:

Accept them as people.

Build them up. Say "thank you."

Communicate with them.

Defend them when someone tries to run them down.

Entertain them. They like to have fun, too!

Family. Allow them to have a family life.

Genuine. Be honest with them. Be yourself around them.

Honor them. Don't put them on a pedestal, but respect them.

Income. Pay them enough so money isn't a concern.

Judge not! Avoid being critical.

Kind. Treat pastors as you want to be treated.

Love. See 1 Corinthians 13.

Maintain. Their families have the same needs as other families.

Nurture. Help them grow in grace.

Offer to help. The list of things you can do is endless.

Pray for them. Lift up their names to God daily.

Quelch not. Encourage instead!

Rejoice in and with them.

Surprise them - in little and big ways.

Trust them. Believe in them.

Understand them. Put yourself in their place.

Vacation. They need time away.

Welcome them into your home. Don't wait for an invitation.

eXpend yourself, not them.

Yoke. Help them bear their burdens with grace and dignity.

Zap all gossip!
